“Anyone who has seen a Saturday morning television cartoon or an Abbott and Costello movie will recognize the style of Commedia dell'arte...a recipe that has never gone out of style.”

— NY TIMES.

Irate fathers, thwarted lovers and mistaken identities!

The fun begins when the wily—and chronically hungry servant Truffaldino hatches a zany scheme to double his wages by serving two masters at once. This 18th century slapstick comedy offers lots of laughs that the whole family can enjoy! (Recommended for Age 10+)
